

The logo features the text "SF/ARTS" in a large, bold, white sans-serif font. A diagonal slash separates "SF" from "ARTS". Above the "ARTS" portion, the word "EDITORIAL" is written in a smaller, white, all-caps sans-serif font. Two vertical orange ropes with a braided texture run parallel to the slash, one on each side. The background is black, and a vertical olive-green bar is on the far right.

This is what SF/Arts curator Christian L. Frock had to say about Disruptus :

Featuring works by David Burke, Cheryl Derricotte, Ian Alan Paul and Martin Webb among others, this group exhibition considers the broad-reaching effects of disruption in our daily lives, as it applies to technology, but also as it applies to political unrest, displacement and the flow of global capital. A free takeaway poster features Dr. Ian Alan Paul's essay of the same title.
